The Napoleons!

The world's pre-eminent stock bull line, the sons of the $25,500 Perth champion Kinellar Napoleon have infused invigorating new outcross blood into many of the breed's oldest and best herds. In every crop, champions and prize winners abound. These are the BIG, THICK, BEEFY stock bulls that have made Acadia famous . . . bulls like the International grand champion Acadia Napoleon 200th by the AAA Acadia Napoleon 66th, and Acadia Napoleon 145th, the ton-weight International supreme champion.

The Diadems!

An important part of Acadia's program is infusing the blood of the incomparable Calrossie Diadem into a significant program of beef cattle improvement. Prime example of its success is Acadia Gallant Diadem 7th, Acadia's undefeated grand or reserve grand champion at Denver, Ft. Worth, Houston, and Jacksonville. More Diadem breeding is available in the All-American consignment of Boll Weevil Plantation.

The Polled Napoleons!

From Acadia's choice collection of polled females, Kinellar Napoleon produced the foundation of a new era in Polled Shorthorns. Cattle of supreme quality and polled heads, like the International grand champion, Acadia Napoleon 75th x, that sired an All-American junior get-of-sire and the International reserve junior champion Acadia Napoleon 65th x, that has sired International champion bulls, females and gets for Windholme. The blood of these and other polled Napoleons can put you on your way to new stature in the Polled Short-horn business.

SCOTSDALE WRANGLER

Boll Weevil and Acadia's exciting new outcross bull is Scotsdale Wrangler by the Perth reserve supreme champion Naemoor Escort, by Perth champion Captain Controller. His dam, the Royal Winter Fair reserve champion, Scotsdale Tulip Queen, by the 2,300 pound Scotsdale Navarre, Granddam, Scotsdale Poppy Queen by Rothney Juggler, won the same championship at the Royal. Valuable too is the cross of Perth champion Calrossie Prefect.

On the Front Cover

From top to bottom are:
1. Acadia Napoleon 200th, International grand champion by AAA Acadia Napoleon 66th. From left: Acadia vice president Betty Royon and Acadia manager Truman Kingsley.

2. Mrs. Hugh Fenwick at the halter of All-American Boll Weevil Blue Book by the $3,000 Acadia Napoleon 76th. Blue Book sold to B. C. Barnes, Carrollton, Ga. A half sister sells as Lot 65.

3. Herman Purdy shows Penn State's PS Lavender 105 x, International grand champion, by Arowsmith Rodney 2nd x, top of the 1965 "Choice of Champions" at $4,800 for a half interest.

4. Timberlee's Rodney 17th x, International grand champion for Timberlee Valley. By International champion Skirmish Hill's Rodney x. Dam by Acadia Napoleon 25th x, Polled Congress champion. The 17th x is owned jointly with Mr. & Mrs. Keith Shepherd, Hopkinsville, Ky.

5. Windholme Napoleon 12th x by Acadia Napoleon 65th x was International reserve champion for Windholme Farm. A half sister was reserve senior champion and in 1965 a half brother won the same honor.

At center is Cyrus Eaton, chairman of the board of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, owner of Acadia Farms, with the International senior champion, Acadia Napoleon 145th, Lot 1.

The Dandies!

Ever since Dandy of Westdrums x was International grand champion and All-American and sired an International reserve champion female and winning get, he has been among the nation's most acclaimed polled bulls. It took Windholme $18,000 to buy him and today he is featured there along with Acadia Napoleon 65th x.

The Rodneys!

Since Rodney's Leader 29 x was International grand champion, he has added a wealth of popular Polled Shorthorns to the breed, like his six International grand champion sons and daughters including the great Skirmish Hill's Rodney x. No polled bloodline has so completely dominated the show and sale ring in modern times. Penn State and Timberlee consignments are steeped in this prepotent blood.

ACADIA NAPOLEON 145th

Here's the Difference Between the CHAMPION and the Field of Competition!

Here's the champion for you to choose — and if it's trophies you're interested in, take your choice of these:

1966 International senior champion
1965 Atlantic Winter Fair grand champion
1966 Ohio State Fair grand champion
1967 Dixie National grand champion
1967 Ft. Worth reserve senior champion
1967 National Western reserve senior champion
1967 Houston senior champion

"The rare combination of size and quality." That's the verdict of the continent's most experienced cattlemen from college experts and performance specialists to the nation's leading judges and most knowledgeable breeders. Acadia is proud to offer this magnificent young sire but must retain one-third interest with which goes the right to semen collections on request.

Only a two-year-old, his first calves arrived in January. Don't take our word on their exceptional size and quality, see them for yourself on sale day. Several will be members of our 1967 show herd.

As rugged as the rocky, limestone shores of Nova Scotia that produced him, the 145th combines the size and substance vital to every stockman in 1967. And, don't forget, here's the extra bonus of length and depth of loin and quarter together with the trimness, gain-ability and high feed conversion that spell profit in today's cattle business. Added proof are these official Ohio performance test results: Type score of 16, highest ever given in Ohio! Average lifetime daily gain 2.15 pounds for 889 days! Weighed well over a ton as a senior yearling!

There's no question that his ancestry guarantees his size. Deep Cove Napoleon 30th was the son of Deep Cove Napoleon 3rd that also sired the $3,300 reserve grand champion of the 1964 Canadian International Bull Sale and a $2,000 first-prize winner that together made up the best pair of bulls.

His Hayard Monarch dam, a member of the Easterloval Clipper tribe, is one of the largest and best members of the powerful Deep Cove herd. Another Monarch cross insures prepotence from a bull that has won universal recognition as a sire of Shorthorns and Polled Shorthorns of exceptional power and stamina . . . like the daughter that was the dam of the International grand champion 200th and a maternal half sister to the 145th that sold to Bilmor in the 1965 sale.

A careful study of the extended pedigree will reveal prepotent lines like the Kinellar Lavenders that produced three International reserve grand champion females for Acadia in four years and Calrossie Golden Road, from which the 145th gets his only cross of Calrossie Welcome back in the fifth generation.

With meatiness, fleshing ability, substance, size and correctness throughout, he's a real asset to the Shorthorn breed.

Acadia Napoleon 145th, Lot 1, was International senior champion bull the same day that another Napoleon from Acadia, out of a similarly-bred dam, was junior and grand champion.

From the rear, Acadia Napoleon 145th, Lot 1, exhibits the exceptional size and substance that are characteristic of Acadia stock bulls. Note the exceptional loin and depth of second thigh.

Truman Kingsley on the Production of Stock Bulls

We at Acadia are very proud of our sale bulls, since each has the bred-in ability to produce size and substance. Our whole breeding program is geared to producing cattle with size, ruggedness and efficient feed conversion. An important fact to keep in mind is that Acadia bulls come by these traits naturally; they aren't pampered.

The Acadia offering will be one of the few to sell this year that can boast of never having seen a nurse cow. Yet the bulls have exceptional rates-of-gain; ranging from two-and-a-half to four pounds a day. We feel this is added proof that Acadia is able to provide its customers with bulls that have the hard-to-come-by combination of size and scale with type, character and great pedigrees.

Be sure to take a look at the dams of these bulls. You won't find a more outstanding group of cows anywhere. These are the ones that take the gamble out of a prospective herd sire.

Just as important are the integrity, aims and purpose of the man who bred these cows and who is making a sincere attempt to improve Shorthorns and Polled Shorthorns everywhere.

The bulls on offer aren't identical, but neither are cow herds across the country. I think any cattlemen can walk through this group of bulls and find a sire that will correct his faults at home. These bulls will solve many problems — from size to over-all correctness. Each bull will be semen tested before the sale.

— Truman Kingsley, Acadia Manager

FEW BULLS in the long and glorious history of Shorthorn cattle have written such a marvelous record in so short a time. After a complete sweep of the major shows in 1963, Acadia Napoleon 66th sold at the top of the International Congress sale to John Shuman and Sons, Byers, Colo., where he subsequently was classified AAA! At Acadia he sired the Ohio State Fair grand champion female, a number of champions and All-Americans, both Shorthorn and Polled Shorthorn, and of course the International grand champion Acadia Napoleon 200th and the second-prize International senior get.

At Shuman's he sired Colomeadow Pride of 66, top-selling bull of 1966 in the U. S.; the 1966 National Western grand champion; the $5,700 1967 National Western grand champion; both Houston champions and another 1966 All-American get-of-sire. At Acadia and Colomeadow, the sons of the 66th have averaged nearly $2,600 and today head some of the breed's best herds, both East and West. Another one-third interest is owned by M. A. Rambo, Temple, Tex., who will be showing his first 66th calves this year.

This sale provides an opportunity to buy two sons, six daughters and the invaluable service of what many consider the best breeding bull in the country.

Acadia Napoleon 66th, AAA, Sire of Champions!

ACADIA NAPOLEON 183rd — One of two topnotch sons of the AAA 66th offered in this sale. You'll also like his sister that sells as Lot 30. The 183rd is made to order for the man who wants size and ruggedness, and character to go with it. We were the runner-up when Kickapoo paid a high price for imported Hilary Broadhooks, and we were happy when Kickapoo finally consented to part with an outstanding granddaughter. The family has bred exceedingly well for us, and the 183rd provides on-the-hoof proof of its ability to produce the stock-bull kind.

The International grand champion Acadia Napoleon 200th weighed more than 1,000 pounds at a year and was not fitted with a nurse cow. Study his exceptional length, strong loin and depth of quarter that have won praise from the nation's most discerning beef cattle experts. He is a half brother to Lots 2 and 3.

ACADIA NAPOLEON 191st — This outstanding son of the AAA 66th is as thick and well-muscled a bull as you'll find if you search the country, and he's well balanced throughout. Harris Simons was impressed with his size when he first saw him roughing it out in the snow in February. The 191st's dam is a member of the Gargiston Augusta family that has been a great money maker for us for 20 years. This is the tribe responsible for Acadia Troubadour 70th, the acknowledged model of modern beef type that we have selected to succeed his late sire, Calrossie Troubadour.

Acadia Troubadour 70th, Model of Modern Type

THE CALROSSIE Troubadour saga at Acadia is filled with champions in every phase of the Shorthorn and Polled Shorthorn business — bulls, females, steers and carloads. Pre-eminent in a long line of achievements was Troubadour's famous son, PS Troubadour, greatest International grand champion steer over ALL breeds of ALL time. Troubadour laid a sound foundation for the later success of Kinellar Napoleon and together the two lines were fused into the product that accounts for Acadia's present position of leadership. Although Acadia's 1963 International first-prize get was by Kinellar Napoleon, each member of it was out of a Troubadour dam.

Chosen to perpetuate that great tradition is the three-year-old Acadia Troubadour 70th whose first calves are a sale feature. The 70th is out of Acadia Augusta 5th that also produced the All-American Acadia Augusta 33rd, dam of the All-American and six-times undefeated Acadia Napoleon 104th, top of the 1964 sale. This Garguston Augusta family, with its valuable crosses of Chapelton Banker, has provided Acadia with many of its best — both Shorthorns and Polled Shorthorns.

Each of the first four calves by the 70th are in the sale. Acadia Napoleon 78th was a member of the winning group of three bulls at the International. Acadia Butterfly Charm 13th is a featured attraction in this sale. She and two-half brothers were the winning junior get-of-sire at the Ohio State Fair, where the 70th himself had been senior champion.

Classified a 16, the highest ever given in Ohio, the 70th is an ideal of today's modern beef type.

ACADIA TROUBADOUR 79th — Here's another model son of the acknowledged model of modern beef type. As a ten-month-old calf, he was grand champion of the 1966 Interstate Classic. Consistently at or near the top of his class at other major shows, he was a member of the first-prize junior get at the 1966 Ohio State Fair and the Classic. He weighed in at 1,015 pounds shortly after his first birthday. From the famed Calrossie Floss family, his dam has always produced desirable calves, among them a Kentucky grand champion and Ohio reserve grand champion female.

ACADIA TROUBADOUR 78th, Lot 5, is at center of Acadia's first-prize group of three bulls at the 1966 International. At right is the International senior champion Acadia Napoleon 145th, Lot 1, and at left is Acadia Napoleon 200th, International grand champion.

ACADIA BONN CONSORT 7th x — Fortuitous was the day when Kinellar Lavender 34th, dam of two International reserve grand champion females for us, and granddam of a third, produced Acadia Bonn Consort x by Timberlee's Consort x. The 7th x will remind you of nothing so much as his All-American sire that was one of the tops of the 1963 "Napoleon Memorial," where we were proud to have Bill and Ruth Warters of Illinois purchase a two-thirds interest for $2,550. The 7th x, with his size, correctness and stretch, plus his extra length from hooks to pins and exceptional thickness down through his lower quarter, will take the guesswork out of your polled breeding program. In our 1965 sale, a two-thirds interest in a seven-month-old paternal half brother brought $1,525 from Ohio State University. Two months later that calf was reserve grand champion at the Ohio State Fair, where a Napoleon stallion from Acadia was grand champion. The 7th x's dam was the prolific old Cherry Hill Clansman x cow that produced 12 outstanding sons in 12 years, among them a Polled Congress reserve grand champion, a New York and Kentucky State Fair grand champion, an International first-prize winner and an Ohio senior champion and All-American. Acadia wants to keep a one-third interest.

ACADIA GALLANT DIADEM 2nd — How would you like to own an outstanding son of the late $10,100 (for two-thirds) Bilmar Gallant Diadem and the All-American Acadia Augusta 33rd? The 2nd is truly a meaty bull, and he carries that meatiness throughout. Since she was grand champion at the 1961 Eastern National and Pennsylvania National as a senior calf, Augusta 33rd has grown into a big, roomy cow that expert cattlemen pick as one of the best in the Acadia herd. Don't forget that her first calf was the All-American Acadia Napoleon 104th, undefeated in six major shows in 1964 after topping the Acadia bulls in the "Choice of Champions" Sale at seven months of age.

ACADIA NAPOLEN 85th was twice All-American and won his class at the International Livestock Exposition before selling in the Congress sale at $2,000. Now owned jointly by Acadia and Harry Ferris & Family, New Palestine, Ind. A full sister was second in the senior heifer calf class to an Acadia stallmate that went on to International reserve championship honors while yet another Acadia-bred heifer was third. The 85th is the sire of Lots 11 and 12.

ACADIA NAPOLEON 202nd — This is one of two strong sons of the twice All-American Acadia Napoleon 85th to be offered in the sale, and he strongly resembles his sire. Like the 85th, he also promises to grow into ample size. From the imported Ballechin Rosewood family, his dam is a full sister to the heifer that the late Otto Grosse bought for $3,500 in the 1961 Acadia Sale and maternal half sister to the heifer that also went to him for $2,075 in the 1959 sale.

ACADIA GALLANT DIADEM 7th has been chosen to follow his late sire at Acadia. He is by Bilmar Gallant Diadem, for which Acadia paid $10,100 for two-thirds in 1964. Shown only four times, the 7th was grand or reserve grand champion on each occasion at Denver, Ft. Worth, Houston and the Dixie National. Three half brothers sell as Lots 8, 9 and 10.

ACADIA GALLANT DIADEM 6th — This son of the late $10,100 (for two-thirds) Bilmar Gallant Diadem has had the words "stock bull" stamped all over him ever since he was a baby calf on pasture with his mother. And what a mother she is! Acadia Lavender 10th, 1960 International reserve grand champion female by the great Calrossie Troubadour. You'll learn more of the Lavender lore in the footnote for Lot 25. The 6th presents himself proudly, with balance and correctness from his head to his tail. We naturally wish to retain a one-third interest.

ACADIA NAPOLEON 204th — Character stands out all over this son of the twice All-American Acadia Napoleon 85th, and he's the rapid-gaining kind that the beef business needs. Acadia's Rosewood Rachel family has made history every year since the foundation Tolquhon Rosewood Rachel cow was imported in 1959. The 204th's dam was a star in the 1960 Acadia show herd, reserve grand champion at the American Royal and several other major shows. Sons of this cow and other Rosewood Rachels have gone out to head strong herds in Colorado, Nebraska, Ohio, Ontario and Saskatchewan.

ACADIA NAPOLEON 163rd — If you like the 145th, you're bound to like the 163rd. They're bred from the same pattern, and they present themselves in the same way. Deep Cove Napoleon 3rd, junior champion of the 1959 Canadian Royal Winter Fair, sired scores of big rugged sons. Typical of them were the two that won two first prizes, the reserve grand championship and the trophy for best pair at the 1964 Canadian International Bull Sale, where one sold to Manitoba for $3,300 and the other to Colorado for $2,000. The imported Corrimony Butterfly family is responsible for too many winners to enumerate, from the $1,725 Deep Cove Ironclad Monarch 4th that sold to Nils Aspaas of South Dakota in the 1956 International Sale to the $3,000 Acadia Napoleon 76th bought by Boll Weevil Plantation of Georgia in the 1963 "Napoleon Memorial." The 163rd has smoothness. Look at his smooth front and the way his head, shoulders and heart girth blend in, and you'll see what he can do for your herd.

ACADIA NAPOLEON 180th — Analyze this trim, well-balanced son of the ton-weight 95th carefully, and you'll have to agree that he's nearly flawless. The 180th won his class handily at the 1967 Dixie National and Houston, and has been coming along like a house afire since he got home from the shows. The 95th was one of the biggest and smoothest bulls of his year on the show circuit, and weighed just at a ton when he was first-prize winner at the 1965 Canadian International and sold to James Torkelson, Beaubier, Sask., where he is making a brilliant record. The All-American and many times champion Acadia Orange Blossom 9th is a full sister to the $2,000 44th that made showing history before he went to Core Bros. of West Virginia and to the $2,000 heifer that Tempel Farms selected in the 1963 "Napoleon Memorial."

Daughters of Calrossie Diadem are not too easily come by, and this pleasing one is a full sister to the baby open heifer that went to Boll Weevil for $3,000 in the 1964 Bilmar Sale. What's more she's from the same Acadia Queen of Beauty family that produced P S Troubadour, the International grand champion steer that still makes the other breeds sit up and take notice. The big added bonus is that she's bred to the AAA Acadia Napoleon 66th!

THE QUEEN of Beauty family is nearly as old as the breed itself, getting its start in the historic Sittiton herd in Aberdeenshire, Scotland in 1847. Breeders Crickshank, Bellows Bros., and Dryden all had a hand in propagating and improving this exceptional cow family. Not entrenched in the past, however, today's Queens of Beauty continue to grab a lion's share of the modern-day headlines. A prime example is PS Troubadour, the most famous International grand champion steer of them all. He was purchased in dam when Penn State purchased Acadia Queen of Beauty 2nd, by Calrossie Sportsman out of Queen of Beauty 11th, at $1,150 in the 1955 Acadia sale.

In 1963 the top-selling female in North America, Acadia Queen of Beauty 8th, by Kinellar Napoleon and out of a Calrossie Troubadour daughter of the original Queen of Beauty 11th, walked through the ring in the Acadia sale. Buyer at $4,400 was John Alexander and Sons, Big Rock, Ill. That same year Acadia Troubadour 66th, that was out of a daughter of Queen of Beauty 11th and Calrossie Sportsman, was first-prize senior bull calf at the Ohio State Fair and grand champion of the Ohio State Sale.

In the 1964 Bilmar sale, Bilmar Queen of Beauty 17th topped the female offering when she went to Boll Weevil Plantation at $3,000. In the 1965 "Choice of Champions," Bilmar paid $1,350 for Acadia Queen of Beauty 9th. She had already been grand champion of the Ohio State Fair as a junior calf.

A valuable member of Acadia's show string last year was the All-American Acadia Queen of Beauty 10th. She was senior champion at the Eastern National, reserve senior champion at the Ohio State Fair, won her class at the Dixie National and stood second in Chicago.

For more on the unparalleled Queen of Beauty story see page 222 of the 1964 Herd Bull Number of The Shorthorn World.

A real highlight of this year's sale are the four Queens of Beauty, selling as Lot 19, 20, 21 and 22. They're all exceptional members of an exceptional family.

Acadia Parts with a Treasured Lavender!

Volumes could be written on the prolific Kinellar Lavender family, that produced three International reserve grand champion females for Acadia in four years.

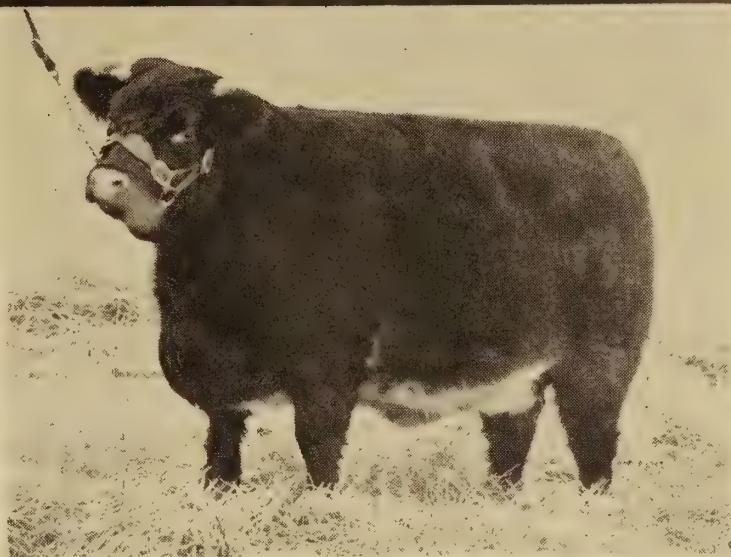

The first was Acadia Lavender N by Kinellar Napoleon himself.

Next was Acadia Lavender 10th by Calrossie Troubadour. She in turn is the dam of Acadia Lavender 13th, twice All-American and dam of Acadia Troubadour 78th, Lot 4; Acadia Napoleon 127th, sold in 1965 to Denzil Bynum & Sons of Oklahoma; Acadia Lavender 12th, the 1962 International reserve grand champion female that sold at $3,600 in the 1963 sale to Royalty; Acadia Lavender 16th, Lot 25, and Acadia Gallant Diadem 6th, Lot 10.

The dam of Acadia Lavender 10th was Kinellar Lavender 34th that also produced Acadia Bonn Consort x, the All-American sold to Bill and Ruth Warters of Illinois at $2,550 for two-thirds in 1963.

Acadia Napoleon 145th, Lot 1, the International senior champion, also carries a cross of this valuable line to insure his extra prepotence.

Acadia Lavender 16th, Lot 25, offers an opportunity unique in any sale to tie to one of the breed's most illustrious lines.

ACADIA LAVENDER 16th — Daughters of the 66th vie with each other for quality. This one ranks among absolutely the best, and she has won countless admirers during her successful show career. A volume could be written about Acadia's Lavender family, which has produced great stock bulls and a succession of tremendous females, including three International reserve grand champions in four years, one of them this heifer's dam. Call Lavender 16th quality plus, in both individuality and pedigree, where you'll see the undeniable worth of the Napoleon-Troubadour crosses. Who can possibly put a price on the calf she'll be producing to the service of Acadia Napoleon 145th, 1966 International senior champion?

Her sire was reserve grand champion of the 1959 American Royal before he went to work at our Deep Cove Farms, where he produced innumerable champion sons and daughters. The imported Corrimony Madge family has a distinguished record of its own, Deep Cove Madge, full sister to the grand champion female of the 1957 Canadian Royal, produced a Napoleon heifer that went to Tempel Farms in Illinois for $2,000. Deep Cove Napoleon 21st, 1964 Canadian International first-prize winner that went to Bill Sherrod of Colorado for $2,000, is a half brother to Deep Cove Madge. Acadia Madge D is bred to Acadia Troubadour 70th, acknowledged model of modern beef type, so the resultant calf will give you the profitable Troubadour-Napoleon cross.

ACADIA BUTTERFLY CHARM 13th — Rare the day is when Acadia parts with a Butterfly Charm, and this could be your lucky day. This imported family has written a bright chapter in American Shorthorn history with its outstanding sons and daughters, prominent among them the AAA 66th. Take a good look at this lovely heifer's picture, and you'll see why we knew Acadia Troubadour 70th was a breeding bull when she and Acadia Crocus F, also selling at Lot 35, hit the ground as his first two calves. Butterfly Charm 13th won her class at the 1966 Ohio State Fair and teamed up with her half brothers, Acadia Troubadour 78th, Lot 4, and Acadia Troubadour 79th, Lot 5, to become first-prize junior get. This heifer is unique for her world of femininity and her wealth of style. Personality plus sums it up. Sells bred to Scotsdale Wrangler, Acadia's exciting new outcross bull.

HARMONY NONPAREIL A V R — The daughters of imported Glastullich Royal Harmony appealed to the public in the Al Roberts dispersion, and this is the best one we've seen. She combines ample thickness with deep quality. She should have a great calf by the $5,000 Bilmar Marshal Diadem, the Calrossie Diadem son that is compiling an enviable record in our Deep Cove herd.

ACADIA LADY RAMSDEN — One of only three opportunities to buy a Calrossie Diadem daughter in this sale, and one of the very rare Calrossie Diadem-Kinellar Napoleon crosses. The few Diadem daughters sold from Bilmar have averaged $2,550. The imported Lady Ramsden family ranks as one of Boll Weevil's best; this nice young member of it, with modern stretch and length, would fit into anybody's program. She's bred to Acadia Napoleon 200th, 1966 International grand champion, so the lucky buyer will get one of his first calves. Safe - 2/20/66

ACADIA BEAUTY 6th — We can only spare two Bilmar Gallant Diadem daughters and this one is from the same imported Beauty family that produced Acadia Gallant Diadem 7th, grand or reserve grand champion as a junior calf in all four 1967 national shows to date, the only times he's been shown. You'll find his dam, Deep Cove Beauty 8th, in her pedigree. She's straight-lined and growthy and carries the modern type. Don't overlook her almost unique Calrossie Ocean Wave-Kinellar Napoleon cross. Bred to Acadia Napoleon 200th, to give you a chance to get in on the ground floor with a calf by the 1966 International grand champion.

EVE ROSEWOOD OF ACADIA x — Here's a polled heifer that has plenty to recommend her as an individual, with a good head, plenty of size and loads of breed character. Now take a look at her pedigree. She's by the All-American Acadia Bonn Consort x, whose fabulous story is told in the footnote for his son selling as Lot 7. Her dam is out of the same great cow as the dam of Acadia Napoleon 200th, 1966 International grand champion. The Tolquhon Ena Rosewood cow down in the bottom right hand corner is by Calrossie Welcome and out of a Kirkton Baronet dam. As if all this weren't enough, Eve Rosewood of Acadia x sells bred to Acadia Gallant Diadem 7th, grand or reserve grand champion as a junior calf at all four national shows to date, the only times he's been shown.

International Champions — These Can Do As Well!

THE POLLED SHORTHORNS that have left Acadia have produced more major show winners for their lucky owners than any other group of cattle in modern-day history.

A prime example is the International reserve grand champion Acadia Napoleon 75th x that topped the 1963 Acadia sale when Ellis Shafer, Royal Center, Ind., paid $3,200 for a two-thirds interest. Two years later the 75th x sired an All-American junior get and the Ohio State Fair grand champion bull later exported to Argentina.

Harry T. Peters, Windholme Farm, Orange, Va., purchased Acadia Napoleon 65th x in 1962. At last year's International this illustrious sire produced the reserve grand champion bull, the reserve senior champion female and the second-place junior get-of-sire. To date, the 65th x has sired four All-American gets-of-sire. Each was either first or second at Chicago and every member of the get was an All-American.

Bill and Ruth Warters, Allerton, Ill., paid $2,550 for a two-thirds interest in Acadia Bonn Consort x in the 1963 Acadia sale. He sired Acadia Bonn Consort 4th x that sold at a high figure to Ohio State University in 1965 when he was a seven-month-old calf. Later that summer the 4th was reserve grand champion at the Ohio State Fair to his Acadia stallmate.

Acadia Troubadour 75th x, a featured sire, is a full brother to the dam of Acadia Napoleon 65th x and to Acadia Troubadour 35th x, a Polled Congress champion. Acadia won the grand championship at the Polled Congress on the 35th x and the reserve grand championship on Acadia Napoleon 25th x in its only two appearances.

In addition, Acadia showed the grand champion female in the All-American Sale on Dainty of Acadia x, showed the second-prize senior get-of-sire at Chicago and the first-prize senior get at the Ohio State Fair on the progeny of the famous Kinellar Napoleon, the only Shorthorn bull to produce an All-American Polled Shorthorn senior get-of-sire. They showed the first-place group of two Polled Shorthorn bulls at the International and won the Polled Shorthorn three-bull group at Chicago twice.

At the 1965 International, the grand champion Polled Shorthorn bull, Sangamon Commando x, was from a dam by Acadia Napoleon 25th x. Added proof that Acadia breeding pays off handsomely for Acadia customers.

Acadia's offering of seven Polled Shorthorn females and three Polled Shorthorn bulls is the kind that can work improvement in any herd in the country. They offer invigorating outcross blood, stellar pedigrees and outstanding quality and character. They are offered with pride.

CLIPPER MAID OF ACADIA x — Here is one of those rare opportunities to buy a polled heifer with the size and substance that today's breeders are urgently seeking. Her sire, America's first AAA polled bull, is making history at Sutherland. Her dam is a full sister to the $3,500 Sutherland Chieftain x that is owned jointly by Sutherland and Don Stout and A. D. Murray of Oklahoma. She is in calf to Acadia Napoleon 159th x, polled three-quarter brother to the 1964 International reserve grand champion Acadia Napoleon 75th x and half brother to the 1962 International reserve junior champion Acadia Napoleon 65th x. See the footnote for her maternal half brother, Acadia Napoleon 206th x, Lot 6.

LADY AUGUSTA OF ACADIA x — These 95th heifers carry the size and substance of their sire, and are the money-making kind of females for the progressive breeder to buy. This royally bred Augusta has the added virtue of being polled. The 95th was one of the biggest and smoothest bulls of his year on the show circuit, and weighed just at a ton when he was first-prize winner at the 1965 Canadian International and sold to James Torkelson, Beaubier, Sask., where he is making a brilliant record. She is bred to another ton bull, Acadia Napoleon 145th, 1966 International senior champion.

Leveldale Patience 4th
Roan, Mathers Bros.

PATIENCE OF ACADIA x — Balance, femininity and breed character from head to tail best describe this desirable daughter of Acadia Troubadour 75th x, full brother to Acadia Napoleon 35th x, 1959 Polled Congress grand champion, and to the dam of Windholme's Acadia Napoleon 65th x, 1962 International reserve junior champion. There's winning blood on the distaff side, too, since the $3,500 Leveldale Patience 4th was out of the twice International grand champion Patience 51st. To top it all off, Patience of Acadia x sells bred to Acadia Napoleon 145th, 1966 International senior champion.

A FULL MEASURE

THE ACADIA record is unmatched anywhere for performance backed with a high code of ethics and selfless devotion to the breed everywhere. For nearly a quarter of a century Cyrus Eaton and Acadia's energetic vice president, Betty Royon, have been at the forefront of breed activity while continually raising their own very high standards of excellence at home.

Cyrus Eaton, from his simple beginnings as a Nova Scotia farm boy to a position of world respected industrialist, has carried with him a love of the land and livestock-on-the-land. He believes in his Shorthorns and in the breed. His ultimate goal is to help the breed expand on every front with the best cattle and most unceasing promotion Acadia and Deep Cove can produce.

To that end, the emphasis at Acadia is on the good, old fashioned fundamentals known to every stockman and cowboy in the country. And, at Acadia, there is an ever-mindful eye cast at the entire national beef cattle economy and the Shorthorn role in it. They know that the rancher's profit margin is slim and that cattle of size, rapid gaining ability, stamina and high feed conversion are the best means of expanding profits.

It is no secret that large sums and untold hours of work and travel have been expended to acquire the cattle that could, eventually, produce this product for Acadia. They have assembled the raw material and then worked it to their will — and when you're dealing with genes that's not an overnight proposition. Here is your chance to buy a piece of Acadia's success. These are the machine tools . . . the models for your future achievement.

Acadia's new manager, Truman Kingsley, is a practical and methodical cowboy who brought his considerable reputation and sound management principles to Acadia a year ago. He manages the bulls just like he did in North Dakota — outdoors with growing rations that insure their vigor and stamina as mature stock bulls.

Here is a sale offering that you must see. The catalog can only give you a foresight. To date eight International champions and a host of others have sold through the "Choice of Champions" ring. I'd be willing to bet that there are a number more winners cataloged this year.

Bull Weevil is selling two of its All-American nominees; Penn State sells a bull Herman Purdy considers the best they've ever produced; the Timberlee consignment is easily its strongest yet; and Windholme parts with two All-Americans, one a bull they are using. These herds are all famous for champions. Moreover, they are famous for producing sound cattle that have a long history of achievement in the hands of others. They share Acadia's dedication to breed expansion and improvement.

Only you can decide whether your next stock bull will be sold at Acadia on May 29. But I can promise that there will be a choice selection of championship bloodlines and a record of integrity and achievement second to none. You'll get a full measure of quality — and more — in the "Choice of Champions" sale. See you there!

2nd lot $450 Bilmar

FOR BREEDERS who like to buy proven producers of quality, Acadia has gone deep into its cow herd to share some of its best. Lots 51, 52, 54 and 55 offer quality pedigree and striking individuality coupled with outstanding records of dependable production.

One of the highlights is Bilmar Elvira 8th, Lot 54. She produced Bilmar Golden Diadem that went to Russell Held in Iowa at $3,000. Another of her sons, Acadia Monarch Diadem, brought $1,600 for a two-thirds interest from Core Brothers in West Virginia when he was just a seven-month-old calf. She sells with a calf at side by Acadia Troubadour 70th, acknowledged as the model of modern beef type. With proven production like this, it won't take a buyer long to more than reap his investment.

Lots 51, 52 and 55 are equally dependable producers. Shore Acres Crocus C and Kickapoo Bright Favour are in calf to the International grand champion, Acadia Napoleon 200th. The fortunate buyers will be the owners of his first calves. Lone Star Golden Chain 3rd is bred to the rugged, ton-weight Acadia Napoleon 145th, the 1966 International senior champion.

Here is one of the rare opportunities for far-sighted buyers to buy cows that usually are available only in dispersions.

ACADIA PRIMULA 18th — This is absolutely the only one of our priceless Primulas that we can spare. She's the kind that will mature into size and increase your pride of ownership every year she browses your pastures. Her royally bred sire, the 37th, was a first-prize winner at the 1965 Canadian International Bull Sale, and is now in service for Joseph and V. B. Kjermstead in Manitoba. Acadia's prolific Primula family has been famous for prize-winning and profitability ever since the great old cow of the Gaston Pauline tribe came from Scotland in 1949. Bred to Acadia Gallant Diadem 7th, grand or reserve grand champion as a junior calf at all four 1967 national shows to date, the only times he's been shown.

She's given us four great calves in a row, and this one goes in the sale as a very special attraction. She's the kind you drive miles and miles to find, in hopes you'll be able to buy, and she'll look better and better every day you own her. Her sire, the 60th, left a sweet set of females at Acadia and in the herd of our esteemed partner in ownership, Tudor Bros., Columbus Grove, Ohio. Sells bred to the ton-weight Acadia Napoleon 145th, 1966 International senior champion.

Where Your Money Buys More!

Year after year, International champions and All-Americans, have sold through the "Choice of Champions" Sale. The two white yearling bulls at right are a good example. At left is the AAA Acadia Napoleon 66th by Kinellar Napoleon that today is owned jointly by Acadia, John Shuman & Sons, Byers, Colo., and M. A. Rambo, Temple, Tex. A great show bull, he also sired the 1966 International grand champion bull and Shuman's 1966 and 1967 National Western grand champions. His sons sold to date have averaged nearly $2,600. The 66th is the only bull in history to have two senior gets-of-sire nominated for All-American honors in the same year from two different herds.

The polled bull is Acadia Napoleon 65th x by Acadia Napoleon 20th and now owned by Windholme Farm, Orange, Va. Himself, the International reserve junior champion, he has sired six All-American gets-of-sire, two International reserve champion bulls, an International best-ten-head and dozens more.

Here are just two examples of the pre-eminent stock bulls that will be available to you on May 29. The get and service of both of these bulls sell, together with many from the same bloodlines that are destined to write future chapters of breed history. Will you be a part of it?

Welcome to Acadia

A WARM WELCOME always awaits you at Acadia, but we are especially eager for admirers of good beef cattle from around the globe to be with us at sale time. In more than 20 years of breeding Shorthorns and Polled Shorthorns for the markets of the world, we have never been more sure of the ability of Acadia stock bulls to perform and succeed under the increasingly exacting requirements of today's agricultural economy. The fundamentals of size, substance and easy fleshing ability are our constant guides at Acadia. It gives us great satisfaction to see how well these rules have been met and how well the bulls developed under them have performed for our customers.

On Monday, May 29, it will be our pleasure to join with our great good friends from Boll Weevil, Penn State, Timberlee and Windholme in again presenting the "Choice of Champions" Sale. These noted breeders share our faith in Shorthorns, and all of us are committed to dividing our beef cattle with you.

Please arrive as early as you like on May 28. The farm is large and should be at its most beautiful. We'll do our best to make sure you see everything. Then join us that evening for dinner at the home farm, where each of us will look forward to greeting you personally.

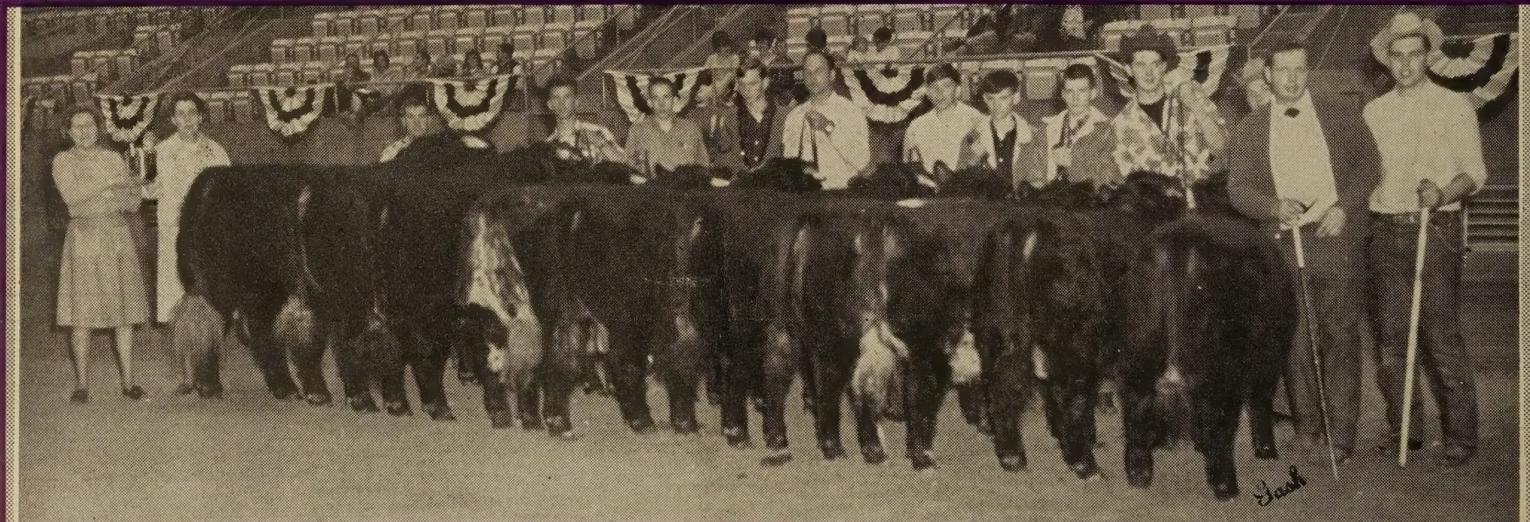

Cordially,
Cyrus Eaton
